

sites along the Blue Ridge Parkway. Performance information can be found at www.blueridgemusic.org.

- Listen to some of the tens of thousands of CDs and read volumes about music, including North Carolina tunes, at one of the libraries across the state or the State Archives.
- Travel to one of North Carolina's 27 Historic Sites that will feature more than 100 programs with authentic music throughout the year.
- Explore the state by using the state highway markers sponsored by the Office of Archives and History. Nine of the markers honor musicians and musical themes.
- Enjoy more than 20 concerts and programs that feature music at the N.C. Museums of Art and History.

For more information on music and cultural travel, including a calendar of events, photographs, and a list of famous North Carolina musicians, visit the N.C. Department of Cultural Resources at www.ncculture.com and click on the "N.C. In Tune" logo. To order a free copy of the 2006 State Transportation Map, call 1-877-DOT-4YOU toll free , or order online at <http://apps.dot.state.nc.us/quickfind/Maps>.

###